As the clock was striking ten on the morning of Wednesday, December 27, the brite and groom, accompanied by Miss Fannie Beswell, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and Dr. C. M. Fisher, as best man, entered the parlor where the guests were assembled and took their piaces under an arch of lace and evergeen. The bride was richly gowned in cream lansdowne, while the bridesmaid wore white muslin with white trimmings. The marriage was solemnized by the groom's nucle, Rev. J. H. Winslow of Whitefield, N. H., assisted by Rev. D. L. Hilliard of the Congregational church in Cabot. After congratulations and best wishes had been extended, the host and hostess invited the company to the dining room where their liberal hands had provided a bountiful wedding dinner. In the afternoon the happy pair took the train at Marchfield for Montreal. They spent New Year's with friends in Whitefield, Mr. Hodgdon having formerly lived there. The wedding gifts both at Cabot and Whitefield were numerous and costly, speaking loudly of the esteem in which hoth are held by their many friends. The Christmas festival at the Center church on Monday evening was in every respect a gratifying success. The church was filled beyond its seating capacity. The music was excellent. The children performed their part in a manner that elicited much praise and the Christmas fore both young and old. The most valuable present on the occasion was an Estey church organ of the best grade of reed organs. It was put in for the benefit of the church and all who meet there to worship by the order of Joshua Tenny. The formal presentation of the organ to the congregation was not made till Sunday at the afternoon service. Hon. A. E. Kinney made the presentation in a few remarks, recounting some of the events that have led up to the presentation and conditions. A tecolution of thanks to Mr. Tenny for his generous gifts was presented, and after bird remarks from several of those present was adopted by a rising vote. The church edifice was built in 1800. The frame was so strongly built that the remark was made it pieces. This church, like many others in New England, was once large and prosperous but by deaths and removals was son much reduced that services were discontinued for several years prior to the spring of 1897, when services were resumed and the church repaired the following autumn.
